Crown Swiatek, Hintz, To Reign Over Antioch

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch Lions Club Pavilion was jammed on Friday to see the Miss Antioch and Little Miss Antioch Pageants.

Ted Axton, president of the First National Bank Of Antioch was the emcee, ably assisted by Glenda Tomaschik who fed him information and vote tally's as they came in, and also acted as narrator for the contests' beauty parades.

The 16 Miss Antioch contestants were seen in street wear, bathing suits and formals and the Little Miss contestants showed up in play wear and their best party finery.

Those in the audience didn't take the swarming mosquitoes half as graciously as the lovely contestants did during the contest which lasted over two-and-one-half hours.

Melissa Swiatek, daughter of James and Jane Swiatek, a freshman in college, was crowned Miss Antioch 1987 by Lake County Board Chairman Jim Fields as she stood, roses in her arms, in her white satin sequined gown.

First runner-up was Chris Eberman, 18, daughter of Chip Eberman and Bruce and Nancy Dahlquist.

The winner of the Miss Cogeniality prize was Shana Adelizzi, 19, daughter of Paul and Fran Adelizzi.

Krista Marie Hintz, 6, daughter of Jim and Karol Hintz, first grader at W. C. Petty, was chosen by the judges to be 1987's Little Miss Antioch.

All contestants received silk roses and the Little Misses got balloons. Miss Antioch and the first runner-up received engraved silver bowls. Miss Antioch received other prizes donated by merchants and as the crownings were finished, and many raced for the parking lot, a large group remained to enjoy the music of Ernie Levas as the first day of the Fourth of July celebration ended. See picture page inside.

8 Departments Battle Rusty Gate Barn Blaze

by GLORIA DAVIS

Quick action from eight fire departments from Illinois and Wisconsin saved 12 horses and two-thirds of a 100-year-old horse barn at the Rusty Gate Horse Farm on Thursday, July 2.

One end of the barn, that held horses and 10,000 bales of hay, was flaming when the Antioch Fire Dept. arrived just after 8:30 a.m.

The Fox Lake, Round Lake, Silver Lake, Randall, Trevor, Wilmet and Twin Lakes Fire Depts. aided in putting the fire out inside of an hour.

Tom Behrens, owner of the farm located barely in Illinois just south of the border, with aid, tore down a fence in order to save the dozen appaloosa horses housed in the barn before the flames and smoke reached them.

According to Wayne Parthun, assistant fire chief from Antioch, a workman was repairing the barn's roof when a spark from the blow-torch he was using set the roof of the barn ablaze.

No one was injured. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

GOP To Host Program On Wetlands

The Antioch Republican Club will host a program by the Lake County Forest Preserve at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, July 15, at the Antioch Twp. office.

The subject of the program will be the wetlands in Wadsworth. The public is invited and admission is free.

After authorizing the engineer to continue with the reams of paper work required plus the continuation of the investigation of the apparent low bidder, the Antioch Village Board expects to let the bid for the improvements planned for the sanitary plant at the July 20 meeting.

So far the base bid on the project stands at $1,843,000. The village is still hoping to get funds from the state to aid in payment for the project but that has been doubtful since the scuttling of Build Illinois Funds. As it now stands, the village will have to foot the entire cost that's just shy of $2 million.

At its last regular meeting on Monday, the village board accepted the bid of $127,523 from Alliance Construction, Woodstock, for the Hillside Ave. paving project. The project will be completely paid for by motor fuel tax funds.

The board then denied the petition of the Christian Life Fellowship Church, now located in a storefront on Lake St., for special use of the property, giving the church one year to find new facilities.

One other petition, the Jacobs petition for the extension of the property on Rtes. 83 and 173 where the Walgreens mall is being constructed, was dropped and another postponed.

The Cunningham petition concerning the rezoning of property on Anita Street was postponed and will be heard at 7:30 p.m. on Aug. 5.

In other business, the board:

— authorized the advertisement for bids on the installation of walk lights at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 83 to be opened at 7:30 p.m., on Aug. 3.

— announced a public hearing to be held on the amending of the ordinance reducing the number of members on the plan commission, at 7 p.m., on Monday, Aug. 3.

Boats Crash, One Sinks No One Hurt

One boat crashed into the rear of another boat on Cross Lake over the holiday weekend with the moving boat that crashed into the stationary boat sinking before being abandoned by its driver and passengers.

A boat driven by Timothy J. Gawron, 27, Chicago, crashed into a boat driven by David Steininger, 27, Downers Grove.

The collision left a piece of the bottom left rear of the Gawron boat sticking into the right rear of the Steininger boat before those in the Gawron boat abandoned ship and the boat went to the bottom of Cross Lake, to be later pulled out by the Antioch Fire Dept.

None of the three children and three adults in the Gawron boat were injured, nor were the three people in the Steininger boat hurt.

Gawron said he was riding on the lake and saw the Steininger boat ahead of him and after he looked away for a minute and looked back he saw the the Steininger boat had stopped. Gawron said it was too late to avoid striking the other boat.

Steininger said that he had seen the Gawron boat quite a ways behind him when he stopped to put a plastic raft in the water and suddenly the Gawron boat was coming at him with its bow high in the water.

Heat Relief Available Now

The Lake County Community Action Project (CAP) has received a $57,480 grant under the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP) to help low-income households help pay for medically necessary cooling costs.

"Because this past winter was relatively mild, money is available for individuals who have documented a medical need for relief during hot weather," said Gov. James Thompson, in announcing the award.

One-time payments under the program, administered by the Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA), may go to utility companies on behalf of income-eligible households. The program may also provide electric fans for people who are unable to get one otherwise.

The maximum grant per household is $140. Applications are being taken now by CAP through Sept. 30, or until funds are exhausted.

For more information, contact CAP at (312) 249-4330.

Complete Insurance Training

Wayne H. Criswell of Libertyville, Warren E. Regnier, Jr. of Lindenhurst and Kevin R. Weeks of Lake Villa, Country Companies agents in the Lake County Agency, completed the company's Commercial Insurance School.

Ocean Spanning Pen Pals

Colonists, Redcoats Get Along In 1987

by GLORIA DAVIS

Six years ago, when she was in fourth grade, Leslie Bennett, 15, a junior at Antioch High School, wrote her first letter to her new English pen pal.

Many years and letters later, that pen pal, Emma Wilkins, 17, Kent, England, and Bennett were sitting across from this reporter at Bennett's kitchen table in Antioch Twp. talking about this friendship of theirs that has spanned the Atlantic Ocean during the girls' grade and high school years.

They first met each other face to face when Bennett took a trip to England on June 8 and returned to Antioch with Wilkins in tow a little over two weeks later on June 24.

Their letters must have been accurately descriptive since both agree that each was just what the other expected and they did have a lot in common, although Bennett is still a school girl and Wilkins is a working girl (they finish high school at 16 in England).

"I really loved England," bubbles Bennett, adding that she especially liked seeing all the historic sights around London.

"I've always been into castles and the like," she said.

Bennett found the English more organized and formal about their social life, while Wilkins calls American teens, "crazy," adding, "they just show up at someone's house and go through their cupboards looking for something to eat."

"She's used to more planned affairs," says Bennett.

Wilkins finds family life much the same on both sides of the ocean, but one of the differences in teen gatherings is that they dance more in England.

She also discovered peanutbutter and jelly sandwiches and jam shorts. "You'd really get a funny look if you walked down the street in England in a pair of those (or any shorts) she said.

Bennett thought the pint glass bottles of milk the English have delivered every morning a bit old fashioned and marveled at the small "fridges" the English have.

"We have separate freezers and don't need such big fridges as Americans have because it seldom gets as hot in England and we keep a lot of items in cupboards that Americans refrigerate," said Wilkins.

Getting a driver's license is quite different in both countries. In England one has to be 17 to get a temporary license which allows them to start taking lessons at approximately $16 a crack.

Wilkins said the lessons could end in five months or they could go on a long time, "until the instructor approves of our driving."

Wilkins said good-bye to the Bennett family on Wednesday, taking a copy of this story back home.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

It seems to be early for sales on summer clothing and warm weather merchandise but I see that Jack's Four Squires is featuring special sales as well as the Globe. How wonderful to be able to buy clothes at a special price and still have most of the season to wear it!

The contest for Miss and Little Miss Antioch had so many contestants this year! Those poor judges, everybody was so pretty and so special. But someone had to win and maybe the winners each had that one extra special thing that the judges spotted.

Those hard working members of the Chamber of Commerce are just recovering from their big RV Show at the high school and now they are working feverishly on the Arts and Crafts Show set for Williams Park on Sunday, July 12.

Old Annie Mae enjoys that event more since it was moved to the shade of the park because somehow it seems that that day is always one of the hottest days of the year.

It's also become a little bit more special since there are less of the everyday kind of crafts on display and more artistic endeavors have taken their place.

Parade lovers can journey just a little bit north for one of the best parades in the area before they go to the arts fair. The Bristol Progress Parade will be marching across Rte. 83 a little after noon.

I see that Joanne Shineflue won a prize for her ACHS "Tom Tom" story concerning Waste Management. I bet she got a lot of information from her mother Marilyn on that one! Marilyn's devotion to stopping the Waste Management expansion in Antioch and all the volunteer work she did on that, was one of the main reasons our little village won out over one of the biggest corporations in the country.

Glad to see it! Congrats to the four ladies at the State Bank of Antioch that just got promotions Did you notice the lovely pastel bouquets adorned with foil congratulations balloons they all had on their desks? Good going Florence Babusek, Carolyn Blanchette, Jean Rockow and Cindy Stout! Oh yes, shades of womens' lib, good show Roger (Manderscheid)! Just kidding!

I hear that Ken and Betty Smouse are making a return visit to one of their favorite places, Stratford on Avon in England later on this summer. Maybe they could fit old Annie Mae into one of their suitcases. Would love to experience Merry Ole England just once.

Under "she's just an old trouble maker," Annie Mae has a traffic gripe this week. Have you ever tried to turn into the intersection of Wilton St. and Rte. 83 while driving south?

That's a n extremely narrow street and for some reason everytime I try to make a left turn onto Wilton I meet a car turning onto Rte. 83. If the car isn't a Yugo, its a difficult turn to make at best, even if there aren't a few cars parked along the north side of the street as there often are.

Maybe the next time the streets committee of the village board talks about street renovation, a little thought to widening that corner can be discussed!

Anniemarie Zullo, popular local hair stylist and Kathy Blasius, are doing well at the Hair Studio on Victoria St. Want the latest and best in hair styles, try the Hair Studio.

Antioch's military sons and daughters are in the news again this week. Airman Michael Zabski, Ruth and Richard Mondrzejewski's son, is a U. S. Air Force Police Specialist at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. He graduated from ACHS three years ago.

Janet Richter, daughter of Pat and William Blass, living in Indiana, and wife of Jeff Richter, son of William and Yvonne Richter of Antioch, has just completed Air Force basic training in South Carolina. Janet just graduated from ACHS this year.

No Quota For Unbuckled

Commenting on a decision of the Illinois General Assembly clarifying the seat belt law, Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-32nd) touched on police ticket quotas, a sore subject with both the motoring public and police officers.

Senate Bill 94, ready for the governor's signature, states that law enforcement personnel cannot stop or search any driver or front seat passenger for not using seat belts unless some other law has been broken. Sen. Schaffer looks upon the legislation as carrying out the intent of the law with a side benefit of helping to bring to an end the practice of completing ticket quotas by stopping motorists just because they aren't wearing seat belts.

In various degrees, we don't know of a police department that doesn't use the quota system, although most law enforcement officials will deny using quotas in traffic enforcement.

A veteran chief, more enlightened in diplomacy than most police officers, once responded to our pointed question about the existence of quotas this way: All businesses have measures of productivity. Police departments have measures, too. We swear he said that with a wink.

So even though you can't get a ticket anymore for driving unbuckled, it's still a good idea to buckle up if you value your life.

Residents of Round Lake Beach and their friends in surrounding communities will be having a ball this weekend as they celebrate the 50th anniversary of incorporation.

Round Lake Beach is having a men's beard contest, as is traditional at these community anniversaries, only this one will be different because male facial adornment no longer is unusual. Winners—losers, depending on the point of view—will lose their beards. Chief target of the razor wielders will be Mayor Carl Schimpf, who has been sporting a bushy growth for a long time, much to the first lady's chagrin.

Because Round Lake Beach was born during tenuous depression times, it doesn't have much company in the family of communities like the pre-World War I era that spawned a number of Lake County communities and the flurry of incorporation in the late 1950s. Incorporation was so unusual then that the Illinois Secretary of State tried to stall Round Lake Beach's formation as a legal incorporation on a technicality after the successful vote on Dec. 5, 1936. Incorporation was so rare in the '30s that the Chicago dailies covered it as page one news. Locally, though, the incorporation was widely supported, due to a considerable part by the popularity of the late Jack Ness, a retired big league baseball player, who was running for election as the first village clerk.

We wish Round Lake Beach well on its next 50 years. Happy birthday!

Letters To The Editor

Applaud Action

Editor:

Regarding your editorial comments on the "Silly Circus of Fox Lake."

The word squabble is a strange description of blatant disregard for village ordinances. In making Jerry McBreen comply with the law, the village board achieved the much delayed action that has been needed for well over a year. We applaud the board for that smart maneuver. Without it, we wonder how long McBreen would be allowed to continue operating a business without a license, rent 89 unapproved boat slips (for 178 boats) while neglecting provision of sanitary facilities for the boaters.

Ridiculing the governing body attempting to uphold the law severely reduces your credibility as a journalist. You'll never be another Royko without checking the whole picture.

Taxing Project

Editor:

During the Village Board meeting on June 20, the mayor stated, "Existing taxpayers shouldn't finance new development."

Fact No. 1: School Dist. 76 would have a deficit of more than $586,000 at full development of the Lexington Project.

Fact 2: School Dist. 79 would have a deficit of $708,000 at full development of the proposed project.

Fact 3: High School Dist. 120 would have a surplus of a mere $90,000 at full development.

Fremont School Dist. 79 is going to need a new school, because of increased enrollment from Huntington Development, Cambridge Country and Lexington Development.

These figures only prove that the existing taxpayers will carry the burden.

Editor's Note: The figures quoted are from the Mundelein Planning Commission's report on Lexington.

Hazardous Debris

Editor:

This is the month of July already and still debris from duck blinds is floating around in Grass Lake, causing a hazardous situation. I was under the impression the fees for the boat decals were to help clean up the lakes.

My neighbors and I appreciate the "No Wake" area by the Grass Lake bridge. Before they put the buoys up we couldn't talk to each other or hear the TV when the speed boats went by.

Ground Supplies Need Protection To Keep Wells Full

by BILL SCHROEDER

When you live in an area bordered by a mini-ocean on one side and a major river on the other, with scores of lakes dotting the landscape in between, it's difficult to imagine that the kitchen faucet could go dry. Ridiculous? Not at all. Shallow wells in the south end of Lake County are going dry and more and more mid-county communities are either curtailing or banning car washing and lawn sprinkling during daytime hours.

Better to have a dry lawn than a dry tap. What's the problem? Ron Riepe, geologist at the College of Lake County, put it in focus in an article in the Lakeland Newspapers news columns last week. Growth is the culprit. Not only are hundreds of shallow wells being drilled that depend on groundwater for recharging, society is destroying natural systems like swamps and wetlands that provide for replenishment. Those fancy blacktop driveways and sprawling shopping center paved parking lots carry rainwater away so fast that it doesn't have a chance to soak into the ground. Last September's floods had precious little beneficial effect on improvement of the ground water supply.

With summer temperatures peaking, the situation isn't going to get any better. Bill Carlson, who has drilled as many wells in west Lake County as any man alive, says to treat your water supply like a rich aunt if you depend on a shallow well. Owners of expensive homes in and around Long Grove are wondering what happened when their shallow wells go kaput. The builder never told them about water being a scarce commodity. Modest homes in communities on deep municipal wells look pretty good by comparison.

Politics and high costs of pipeline construction have hampered efforts to bring Lake Michigan water inland. Public officials around here have been looking to Lake Michigan for more than 20 years so you can't say they're unaware of water shortage problems. They just haven't been able to come up with the right combination of leadership and engineering to pull off the deal. Just like the shallow wells in unincorporated areas going dry, the deep wells serving Lakeland villages may some day soon be affected.

We'd like to see more attention paid to wetlands preservation and water retention. This will protect the ground water supply while the politicians keep working on bringing Lake Michigan water to these parts. I'll bet Mother Nature will beat the politicians if we give her a chance.

TRAVELING MAN—Jim Warnken used to travel all over the nation as part of his job as promotions director for a nationally distributed paint company. When he decided to go into business for himself, travel was a natural. The big change, though, is the fact that now he stays home in Lake Villa where his firm, North Star Travel, Inc., is headquartered, and his customers do the traveling. Warnken, by the way, is utilizing his journalistic skills necessary in his former occupation to write a weekly travel column for Lakeland Newspapers that debuted last week.

GOOD LUCK—Congratulations to Frank Belmont in his new assignment, head basketball coach at Waukegan West High School. We predict that Belmont will soon be turning out Sweet Sixteen teams for Waukegan, his hometown, like he did at Carmel High School, his alma mater and coaching challenge since graduating from college. Even though Corsair fans are sad to see Belmont leave the Mundelein school, the bright side is that he isn't going far away.

NEED A HAND—When Diana Vickery, press director for the Lake County Fair, called to say that the fair needs a few good hands for a project, your columnist didn't know she was talking about a milking contest until he said "Sure." So the editor will be groping his way with other contestants in the First Celebrity Invitational Milking Contest at the 1987 Lake County Fair. The inaugural event will take place July 31. For the record, nanny goats will be victims of the amateur milkers instead of cows.

NO PROBLEM—If politics is a man's world (and that's open to question), Mayor Claire Petrick of Round Lake Heights isn't phased in the least. Mayor Petrick grew up in a household with 10 brothers, so she's more than used to dealing with the male point of view.

Round Lake Heights currently is involved in a spurt of commercial growth that is keeping all village officials busy. Mayor Petrick feels that commercial development is good for Round Lake Heights, for many years almost 100 percent residential.

Matijevich: No Case For Governor's Tax Increase

Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) said that Gov. James Thompson "bungled" from the start his whole plan to enact tax increases this year. "He followed bad advice and his credibility started at zero and went downhill from there," said Matijevich.

Matijevich said it didn't make things easy for anyone that in two successive elections the public was led to believe that the state's fiscal condition was sound, and then got hit with Thompson's "tax bombshell" after the election.

"Five years ago, though, the whole country was in a recession, and the state's fiscal condition was real and in a crisis stage, and we all knew it, in spite of Thompson's election rhetoric," Matijevich said.

"This time, it's different, and although we all acknowledge that the fiscal condition is not rosy, it is manageable."

Matijevich said that it wouldn't hurt the state to go through a tight fiscal year, so that some of the frills and unnecessary spending of the bureaucracy will be cut, especially "ill-advised" building projects. He cited Build Illinois as an example.

Recent publicity about the Dept. of Corrections director Mike Lane's purchase of a $242,000 airplane even though it wasn't budgeted, disclosures that the Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs approved many loans which defaulted because of loose background checks, and the funds spent on the governor's mansion rose garden sounded like the "death knell" to tax increases, according to Matijevich.

"To cut prison guards when the director is buying a plane for his own use is the height of fiscal arrogance and irresponsibility," he said.

Matijevich conceded that the needs of education and education reforms will suffer because of the legislature's budget, but he said that adjustments must be made due to revenue shortfalls.

"Since any tax increase to be effective immediately before the next fiscal year begins in July of 1988 takes an extraordinary majority of votes to pass, I don't predict a tax increase in the fall veto session," Matijevich explained. He said that the tight budget places extra pressure on every state agency to "hold the line," which he predicted the taxpayers would agree with.

Geo-Karis Proposes Plans For Storm Management

Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) is calling for county-wide stormwater management plans in metropolitan counties to help prevent repetition of the flooding that occurred in northern Illinois last fall.

The Illinois Senate has approved (HB 998) she co-sponsored with Sen. Forest D. Etheredge (R-Aurora) requiring urban counties to adopt plans to bring their stormwater management into line with demands which rapid growth has placed on drainage systems.

"Last year's floods taught us that we can't afford to neglect stormwater management," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "We can't do the job piecemeal. We need county-wide planning to resolve the problem. Unless we coordinate drainage systems and continue to develop facilities to keep pace with residential and commercial growth, the threat of further flooding will be with us forever."

Her legislation would consolidate existing stormwater facilities into countywide systems that could be expanded as required. The plans would make use of both natural and man-made drainageways, and could incorporate watershed planning.

Sen. Geo-Karis said each metropolitan county would establish a stormwater planning committee is to develop and implement its stormwater system. The committee would have equal county and municipal representation. No increase in taxes for stormwater management could be imposed unless county residents approve it by front-door referendum.

Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) is House sponsor for the bill.

The USS Oliver Hazard Perry is the lead ship of a class of guided missile frigates designed to support an aircraft carrier battle group with anti-air, anti-surface, and anti-submarine weapons. Homeported in Philadelphia, the ship is visiting Chicago during its 1987 Navy Great Lakes Cruise.

Missile Frigate Coming To Chicago

"We have met the enemy, and they are ours," Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry declared triumphantly to Gen. William Henry Harrison in September of 1813.

His nine-ship American fleet had defeated six British warships in a battle for control of Lake Erie. The American naval victory that day enabled Harrison to force the British back into lower Canada.

This summer, Perry's namesake, the guided missile frigate USS Oliver Hazard Perry, returns to the Great Lakes during the annual Navy Great Lakes Cruise, sponsored by the Navy Recruiting Command and the U.S. Atlantic Fleet. The cruise provides Great Lakes area residents with the opportunity to tour a modern Navy warship.

Chicago is the Oliver Hazard Perry's eighth port of call during the Great Lakes Cruise.

Master Chief Petty Officer Robert C. Toth, son-in-law of Colette August of Wauconda, is assigned to the Oliver Hazard Perry as the command master chief.

"Command master chief is a collateral duty now," Toth explains. "I'm a fire controlman, but I just happen to be the most senior enlisted man on board."

Fire controlmen operate and maintain the electrical, electronic, hydraulic and mechanical equipment required to ensure the accuracy of the ship's weapons systems.

The command master chief is a liaison between enlisted men and the commanding officer.

"I'm considering converting to a strictly command master chief designation," Toth says. "I'm ready for some new challenges and new skills."

Toth says he has enjoyed his career in the Navy because there was always something new to learn or see.

"I'll spend more than 20 years in the Navy," the 36-year-old Navy man says, "but less than 30. The separations from my family have never been easy, but my family and I have learned to cope with them."

Toth, a Canonsburg, Pa. native, joined the Navy in 1969 and has been assigned to the Oliver Hazard Perry since April 1986.

The USS Oliver Hazard Perry is the lead ship of a class of multi-purpose guided missile frigates designed to support an aircraft carrier battle group with anti-air, anti-surface and anti-submarine weapons systems.

The ship is assigned to the Naval Reserve Force, and operates with a crew composed of both active duty sailors and Naval Reservists.

Besides supporting Navy recruiting, the Great Lakes Cruise gives the crew and a contingent of Selected Reservists an opportunity to practice their navigational and maneuvering skills in the restricted waters of the Great Lakes.

Quality Of Health Care Often Depends On Cost

Courage is rare; it should be applauded.

There are two types of courage. The first is physical, where one risks life and limb. Less recognized is standing up for principle. This second kind is harder to do. It is frequently unpopular, makes one disliked, may endanger one's livelihood. Pastor Niemoeller put it well with his description of Nazi creeping persecution. "Then they came for me, and by that time, nobody was left to speak up." In a previous column he was quoted; he must not be forgotten.

Medical usings

By Leo Tannenbaum, M.D.

There is a parallel in medical care today. Very little courage is being shown. The foxes are in the chicken coop and we are persuaded that they are the guard dogs of medicine. When it is pointed out that the foxes really are not guarding the chickens, then we are told it's too expensive to do it any other way.

Strangely, it is rare to find any authority in the field disputing that we are developing a two-tier type of medical care. Some with money or insurance will be getting medical care. Those without it will not; they are being turned away more and more frequently.

About 15 years ago an active hospital staff president was asked by an administrator to appoint a committee of physicians. It was to count the number of days in the hospital spent by indigent (Medicaid) patients for the various diseases. It was a curious request. The means to do this laborious task for all patients was at hand through record room employee cooperation. But why just the poor? It was not accompanied by a sister study of their poor nutritional state, or poor living conditions. We know those are bad. The government would have to run sister studies on these, but there were no sister studies. The barebones answer: They just wanted length of Medicaid patient stays.

This all ran through the president's mind, and what they wanted it for. The president of the staff said, "You're playing a game here. First you get numbers, then you average it for a particular disease; that's how many days the poor person will be able to stay. Man, you intend to treat the poor differently than the insured or affluent! Then you'll shave a few days off the average. I won't appoint any such committee; its end result is two-tier medical care with the poor in the lower level of care."

"You have to!"

"Show me any such rule of the hospital staff or government law. Show me that my assessment of your motives is wrong."

"I don't want to get you angry. I don't see how it affects you personally."

"It affects me because it affects patients, first the poor, then everyone. I am under the belief that the doctor's job is to zealously guard his patient's health, rich or poor. This involves the number of days in the hospital with the best possible care."

The staff president showed courage in his principles. This stand was unusual, not because doctors don't have principles. I'll back them against any group. Their problems have always been fourfold.

First, they are so single-minded in their early years of study (which they must continue to keep up) that it never occurs to them until too late that they might not be recognized as the good guys. Secondly, most have the usual human lack of courage to become disliked. Third, their profession requires them to make up their minds and act decisively. This frequently is mistaken for arrogance, although like most humans, there may be arrogant ones. And fourth, no group is so poorly represented by an organization that speaks for it. This is subtly demonstrated by the fact that only a minority of practicing doctors belong to the American Medical Assn. This is not known by the public. This is why the doctors don't get together on policy.

Despite the president of the staff mentioned above, the work of singling out Medicaid patients went forward elsewhere. With this as a model, it eventually touched all in the land. The Medicare patients were next, and insurance companies apply the same guidelines to all as predicted.

Musings: Convincing the public that less care is better has gone over well because medical care is expensive. Only when you or a loved one is deprived of obvious full quality care will you become alerted. The regulation of any industry is recognized as increasing costs. Why is it not recognized that this applies to medicine? If length of stay in the hospital, tests to be run and medicine to be used is all dictated with costs the determining factor, how do you get quality care for the individual?

Lakeland Area Growth Bucks Regional Trend

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

Though the building boom is over in the Chicago metropolitan area, Lake County remains a hot spot for growth, running against the area trend.

The Bell Federal "Survey of Building," issued June 30, shows that new housing permits in the Chicago area decreased by 19 percent compared to the same month last year. The drop continues a pattern of decline in new housing activity for the year. Overall, it is down two percent compared to the first five months in 1986.

In the Lakeland area, though, the pattern is reversed (see accompanying charts). The Bell Federal survey itemizes figures only for villages and cities with a population greater than 5,000. In the Lakeland area, the value of permits are up by $2,787,139 over May, 1986, an increase of 27.7 percent.

The number of new permits taken out was 162, up from 132 in May, 1986. That is an increase of 22.7 percent.

The biggest gains in housing occurred in Round Lake Beach, Grayslake, Gurnee and unincorporated Lake County. The average market value of new homes is highest in Hawthorn Woods at $174,164. The lowest average value per unit is in Round Lake Beach at $29,581.

The towns with the most intensive housing to commercial building ratios in May were Hawthorn Woods and Grayslake. Only 2.3 percent of new construction in Grayslake was for commercial use and only 2.7 percent was for commercial use in Hawthorn Woods.

The heaviest commercial growth came in Vernon Hills (100 percent of all permits), unincorporated Lake County (88.4 percent), Mundelein (68.4 percent), and Gurnee (37.1 percent). In the middle range were Antioch (28.4 percent), Fox Lake (26.8 percent), Round Lake Beach (19.9 percent), and Lindenhurst (13.9 percent).

West Lake County is experiencing the largest amount of housing growth, with Round Lake Beach and Grayslake leading the way. The average value per unit increased in all areas reporting except for Round Lake Beach, which suffered a $1,111 decline, and unincorporated Lake County, which lost an average of $955 in value per unit.

The continuing growth of west Lake County should help fuel the growth/no-growth debate for years to come. But the issue has changed from what it was just a few years ago.

Many municipal officials have accepted, in theory at least, the assertion that new residential growth costs more money to serve than it brings in in tax revenues. Most officials believe, though, that new commercial growth more than pays its own way, even when tax breaks are given to encourage such growth.

So, rather than focusing on the broad issue of growth, debate may turn to the question of what type of growth should be encouraged. In that case, expect to see pressure put on communities to get the residential/commercial ratio on new growth in favor of commercial growth.

Warehouse Project Underway

Vexcell Development Corp. has broken ground on a three-and-three-quarter-acre site in Allanson Industrial Park in Mundelein for a 51,000 square-foot solid-masonry office and warehouse complex.

This will include two buildings with 10 units in each. Two units will be 100% office space, and the others will average about 18% office and have overhead doors.

Jim Freiberg, Vexcell president, has planned and designed these units to appeal to the small manufacturer, product distributors, service contractors, packaging facilities, etc.

A similar project in Prospect Heights has proved to be very successful and fulfilled a great need in that area.

J.C. Forney Co. in Libertyville has been chosen to be the exclusive leasing agent.

Construction work is now underway, and according to Jack Forney, leases are now being prepared for Oct. 1st occupancy.

It is expected that this new facility will eventually have from 100 to 200 employees and the site improvements will have an assessed value of about $1.5 million.

93.5-Acre Site Wins Developers

by LARRY WITTNEBERT

Larry McKay from Antioch is one of the developers of the single-family development that is planned for a 93.5-acre site located along Rtes. 12 and 134 in Fox Lake.

Purchased at auction for $450,000, the project will offer $30,000-$40,000 lots and homes in the range of $175,000.

Developers have formed Pentagon Inc.

Comprising the corporation are Ron Jahns, co-owner of Chain-O-Lakes Lumber Co. in Round Lake; McKay, an international sales representative; Fred Diesel of Crystal Lake, who owns several lumber yards; Chuck Tronvig of Ingleside, a building contractor; and Lou Piagentini, owner of Lakes Bowl in Round Lake.

Jahns said that the men are old friends and decided to purchase the property.

"I think the area needs a nice, quality subdivision," Jahns said.

The group already has a preliminary plat for the development and a surveyor has been hired. After the survey is completed, the developers will take their plans before the Village Board of Fox Lake. Jahns said that the group has received excellent cooperation from the Village of Fox Lake.

Lots will be developed in one-acre tracts and the developers will put in the streets and utilities.

"It's a gorgeous piece of ground," Jahns said, "I think we got a good price."

Identity of the buyers was kept secret after the auction pending closure of the deal July 2.

Jahns said that some of the developers will probably build homes on the property.

He said that he expects to have no difficulty in selling the lots.

Two pieces of property have been set aside for commercial development, about five acres on Highway 134 and three-and-a-half acres on Rte. 12.

The site has been described as gently rolling and heavily wooded. It has 300 feet of frontage on spring-fed Duck Lake, one of the cleanest bodies of water in the Chain O' Lakes, reports said.

Seller was Duck Lake Properties of Deerfield, a limited partnership.

Antioch Looks Forward To Annual Arts Fair

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312)395-6081

Here we are at the midpoint of summer vacation. The Fourth of July has come and gone, and it's all Holiday entertaining is done; quiet days loom ahead.

Antioch's "Old Fashioned Fourth of July" celebration was as always a great success, helped immeasurably by the weatherman. Weren't those youngsters driving their little cars in the parade cute? Congratulations to 17-year-old Melissa Swiatek, Miss Antioch of 1987. Best wishes to you as you go on to compete in the Lake County Fair pageant!

Congratulations are also in order for Little Miss Antioch of 1987, Krista Hintz, age six. Next up on the Antioch summer schedule is the Chamber of Commerce and Industry's Arts and Crafts Festival, to be held Sunday, July 12 at Williams Park, 741 Main St.

Antioch Youth Baseball is winding down the season with the many leagues in championship tournaments. The AAA Boys' Baseball Championship saw Division A's Plug Compatible Computer team, coached by Denny Dyer, play Division B's BJ's Sporting Goods team, coached by Dave LaForge, in a two-out-of-three competition. Each team won one game, making the third game a clincher.

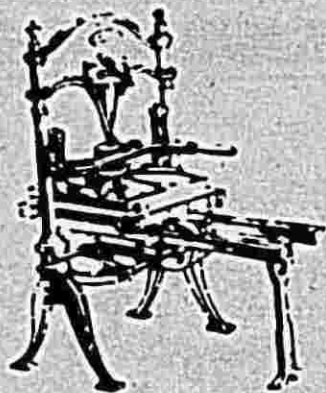

The game was a pitchers' dual, with Lucas Dyer and Mike Petersen pitching for the Plug team against David LaForge and Jon Welch for BJ's.

BJ's was winning 4-3 in the top of the sixth inning. Plug had two outs and a man on third. The batter hit a line shot into deep left only to be caught by a great catch by BJ's left fielder Gordy Persha. BJ's is the 1987 AAA Champion!

Lakes Region Museum's Dedication on July 18

The Lakes Region Historical Society invites everyone to the formal dedication and opening of the Lakes Region Museum, located at the corner of Depot and Main Sts. in Antioch, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, July 18. The formal dedication and ribbon cutting will take place at 11 a.m.

A varied program has been planned for the day. Betty Lu Williams, Dr. Don Skidmore and other local dignitaries will be on hand for the ribbon cutting.

There will be demonstrations of crafts which were once a necessary part of our ancestors lives, such as quilting, spinning and weaving. An old-fashioned ice cream social which will include tastes of homemade ice cream is being planned.

There will be a "horse-trading" booth where everyone will have a chance to swap an item of historical interest for a souvenir of the occasion.

For those who like to reminisce about the "one that got away", Dick Waters, Bill Brook and other area sportsmen will be manning a hunting and fishing table where they can swap stories.

A special booklet containing articles about the Lakes Region will also be available and the authors of those stories have been asked to be there to autograph copies.

A special invitation is extended to all former students and teachers to attend and hold an informal reunion that day.

Geo-Karis Bill For Dry Town Gets OK

Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) has Gov. James Thompson's signature on her bill to allow dry communities to stay dry by excluding them from hole-in-the-doughnut legislation that would otherwise bring automatic annexations of adjacent territory where liquor is sold.

"This is a triumph for Zion and other towns that have chosen to outlaw sales of alcoholic beverages," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "I am delighted that the governor agreed to sign it into law right after it was approved in the General Assembly." The bill is one of the first approved by Thompson in this session.

The legislation arose from a law approved last year calling for automatic annexations of hole-in-the-doughnut territories that are surrounded by communities which have coterminous township boundaries. This would automatically annex into Zion an area which has two liquor-selling establishments.

Sen. Geo-Karis said the bill (SB 66) creates an exception to the automatic annexation law. It also provides for disconnection of any territory that has already been automatically annexed, and for reconnection to its former township, if that territory permits the sale of liquor.

Forest Preserve Fails To Stall Development

An effort by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. to sidetrack a home development in southwest Lake County was termed "six months late."

The county attempted to purchase Braemar Development, part of the Village of Lake Zurich, to protect the nearby Cuba Marsh, a noted nature area, which is fed by wetlands on the development.

Lake Zurich trustees voted final approval of the project Monday, July 6, and voted to issue building permits for the project which had been stalled by forest preserve acquisition efforts.

Dist. 6 County Board Rep. Bruce Hansen told village officials that the county is alarmed over rapid disappearance of wetlands areas in the southwest part of the county. "Flood plains need preservation," Hansen declared.

The marsh was added to the forest preserve system 14 years ago. County holdings are separated from the subdivision by incorporated land in the Village of Deer Park.

College Program Helps Women Locate Jobs

The Office/Secretary Re-entry Certificate Program at the College of Lake County has proven to be successful at helping women return to the work force, according to figures compiled by Don Holland, associate dean of the Business division.

Of the 81 participants who have completed the course over the past four years, 50 percent are employed either full or part-time or are working through a temporary agency.

Offered every fall semester since 1983, the program is designed to help those returning to the work force upgrade their skills, learn new office technologies and procedures, and find jobs.

The college's placement services provide current job openings with free placement and offer cooperative work study opportunities to help ease the transition back to the office.

Information and registration sessions for this fall's program will be held on Wednesday, July 22, and Tuesday, Aug. 18, at 2 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. both days in room A111 at the Grayslake campus.

Current salaries among those who have earned the certificate range from $11,000 to $21,000 annually for full-time workers and from $4.50 to $10 per hour for part-time employees.

Job titles, in addition to secretary, include word processing analyst, office manager, production coordinator, administrative assistant, purchasing analyst, and sales coordinator.

Local companies often call the college with an interest in hiring the program's graduates. Companies where graduates are employed include Baxter Travenol, Electronic Counters and Controls, Abbott Laboratories, Kemper, Rotary Electric, Great Lakes, Walgreens, Allstate, Medline Industries and Lake Forest Hospital.

For more information, or to request a brochure explaining the program, call (312) 223-3616, or (312) 223-6601, ext. 515.

Local Ace Dealer On Board Of Directors

Richard E. Laskowski has been elected to Ace Hardware board of directors for a two-year term at the annual meeting held June 1, 1987 in Oak Brook.

As a board member, he will represent dealers in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Laskowski's interest in hardware started as a youngster working in his uncle's Ace Hardware store. Upon graduating from high school (1959) and thinking of architecture as a career, he enrolled at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Three months later he realized that hardware was his line, and he continued working for his uncle.

In 1962 he and his wife, Joanne, bought the first of their four stores. They own Ace Hardware Home Center, Round Lake; Ace Hardware of Lakehurst, Waukegan; Ace Hardware of Round Lake Beach; and recently acquired a fourth store in Gurnee.

Active in local and civic activities, he is a member of the Chambers of Commerce of Round Lake, Waukegan and Gurnee, and a member of the Round Lake Lion's Club. Previously, he chaired the finance and fund-raising committees at St. Joseph's parish in Round Lake. He also chaired the finance and police committees for the Village of Round Lake during his eight-year term as trustee.

The Laskowski's have one son, Richard, and four daughters, Deborah, Kathryn, Gail and Linda.

Ace Hardware was founded in the 1920s by a small group of Chicago area hardware retailers as a modest effort to pool buying and promotional activities. In 1976, it became a dealer-owned cooperative. Its 13 distribution centers serve almost 5000 dealers, nationwide, whose purchases of merchandise in 1986 totaled over $1,061,000,000, a 5.1 percent increase over the previous year.

Maps To Go Out From Chamber Office

After a busy winter answering correspondence and mailing out 3,400 maps to tourists areas and individuals, the Twin Lakes Chamber of Commerce is now open daily.

Angela Karow, executive vice president, announced the hours will include Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The little cottage at the end of Main and Lake streets has information on historical tours and museums of interest. The office has brochures and maps on 48 states and the 72 counties of Wisconsin, with many points of interest.

The Chamber publishes a community calendar every month, listing the dates and times of organizations and activities. Anyone interested can send for the information before the 15th of the month or call the office at (414) 877-2220. Copies of the calendars are available free at the 1st Bank Southeast, of Twin Lakes, 1st Financial, Sentry and IGA food stores.

Karow emphasized the aim of the Chamber of Commerce is to promote business in the area. To do this, there must be dependence upon the businesses to furnish the necessary information or brochure on their services and products. This can be done by stopping in or calling the office.

During the winter a total of 494 inquiries were answered from the list of states attached.

The office still has summer promotion tickets for Great America available at a discounted rate.

Moulis is an owner of Fox Lake Harbor in the Chain O' Lakes area, selling Bayliner boats, the largest boat producer in the world.

Fox Lake Harbor has opened a second store in the Naperville area, now being Chicagoland's exclusive Bayliner dealer.

Moulis, a McHenry resident, is a graduate of Marquette University in Milwaukee. He is president of The Midwest Boat Show and member of The Midwest Boat Show and of The Waukegan Yacht Club.

With offices in downtown Waukegan, Gurnee and Libertyville, The First National Bank, founded in 1852, is Lake County's oldest financial institution.

Wauconda area soccer players participate in drill during camp sponsored by Aleks Mihailovic. Mihailovic's Caidance system stresses body mechanics, mind development and soccer techniques. Camp was held at Wauconda Chiefs' facilities. — Photo by Steve Peterson.

'The Team' Wins Two Games

"The Team" in the Lindenhurst softball league won two games to keep its record unbeaten.

"The Team" beat Forgcutters 5-2 and Left tovers 13-2 to increase its record to 6-0.

In other games, Old Stylers beat Chandlers 12-2, Fogcutters beat Old Stylers 6-5 and Chandlers beat Left tovers 5-1.

Old Stylers was in second place in the league with a 5-1 record, followed by Fogcutters at 2-4 and Left Overs and Chandlers both at 1-5.

Mutsell Completes Camp

Martin Mutsell of Woodland School in Gages Lake has completed a one week course of intensive baseball training at the Mickey Owen Baseball School near Miller, MO.

During his stay at the school, Mutsell received specialized training in all phases of the game through a combination of instruction and game experience, that included: 15 or 25 games in a two-week stay; practice games; pitching machines; video-taping equipment and instruction from qualified coaches.

The facilities at the Owen baseball school were planned so that the player is able to receive the comprehensive training used to become a better baseball player.

Mutsell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mutsell of Gurnee.

Caidance Soccer System Improves Players' Skills

It's called caidance, but for a group of Wauconda area soccer players, the relatively new technique of soccer instruction might as well be called opportunity.

"Our main objective is to instruct each player in the skills of soccer, while fully enjoying not only our method but the game itself," caidance instructor Aleks Mihailovic said in a brochure.

The opportunity for players is a chance to better their skills for club games or high school matches. The caidance system was brought to Wauconda last week for five days of three hours of instruction at the Wauconda Chiefs' soccer club fields.

The camp, for boys and girls age five to 17, is staffed by Reuben Stivan, professional soccer player in both the Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL) and the American Indoor Soccer Assn. (AISA); player Hector Rodriguez and Ricardo Alonso, a Chicago Sting player.

"In order to execute a movement, you have to be able to read a movement," Mihailovic said during a lull in practices.

Practices begin with warm-ups and later individual instruction featuring high school training sessions.

"We use repetition and movements and then apply them to game situations," Mihailovic said.

The caidance method features three main areas, all of which have equal importance: body mechanics, mind development and soccer techniques. Body mechanics stresses the athlete's body in skill; execution of movements and the prevention of injury. Mind development, the second phase, stresses discipline of the mind. Soccer techniques is the third level of development. Creativity and thinking are used to develop ball passing, trapping, proper kicking and pacing of the body techniques.

Players are grouped according to ability level, and age.

Mihailovic said the key to the development of soccer players is good coaching but the parents who coach generally do not have a soccer background because they did not grow up with the sport.

"It's coming up but we have to keep working on developing good coaches," Mihailovic said.

The caidance system is being taught at various sites throughout the Chicagoland area this summer, but Wauconda is the only camp being held in the Lakeland area.

"The Wauconda Chiefs is a very good soccer club. They've done an excellent job in a short period of time," Mihailovic said.

About 40 to 45 players attended the camp in Wauconda last week, but the camps have featured as many as 4,800.

This is the fourth year that Mihailovic, the coach of the Chicago Shockers of the AISA, has been running the camps.

For more information on future camps, call (312) 986-9361.

Grayslake Outslugs Zion, 10-8

Grayslake's Colt league team turned on its offensive power with a 10-8 win over Zion.

The win gave the Grayslake team a 7-10 overall record.

Grayslake scored eight of its 10 runs in the first four innings and added two in the sixth after Zion closed the gap to one run.

"We're starting to hit the ball now," manager Ron Woll said.

WTHS Trainer Pous Stresses Sports Preventive Medicine

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

When a Warren Twp. High School athlete sprains an ankle, jams a finger, or has a more serious injury, he or she can usually count on something few other North Suburban Conference schools have: a certified trainer.

And for Mark Pous, that position means making himself available for all types of Blue Devils' sporting events: from football to girls basketball to soccer to cross country, tennis and track and field.

"The biggest thing in athletic training is getting to know the kids," Pous said.

Pous, 25, a frustrated football player, started his career at Warren in 1985-86 as a "para-professional" and bus supervisor in addition to his training duties. In 1986-87, he joined the Warren teaching staff as a health instructor.

Preventive medicine is Pous's main theme, and he said the Blue Devil coaches have helped in that regard.

"The coaches are knowledgeable about preventive training probably because they had to do it themselves for so many years," the trainer said.

Pous is likely to be the first one at WTHS sporting events and the last to leave. In football season, for example, he arrives before the sophomore game for taping.

He said football is the most dangerous sport for injuries while gymnastics is running second.

"Football definitely is most risky because of the amount of contact, the force and the size of players. Gymnastics is dangerous because the athletes are getting themselves in awkward positions," Pous said.

Trainers, of course, are the first person an injured player usually sees after the injury occurs. Pous said the coaches have been working well with him in letting him make decisions. In turn, he takes some worry away from them while they can concentrate on coaching.

After a player goes down, Pous said he is trained to handle broken bones depending on what is broken, sprains and fractures. In more complicated cases, he takes a player to the locker room and calls paramedics.

Warren has an added advantage in the presence of Grayslake Dr. Edward May, a longtime fixture on Warren sidelines.

Pous said when he talks with other trainers, he is the "envy" with a qualified doctor at most games.

"It's a great feeling to know he is there," Pous said of May.

While only four schools - Fenton, Warren, Stevenson and Niles North, have certified trainers in the NSC, Pous said the situation is progressing. Mundelein and Libertyville share a person who attends to injuries.

"The conference is definitely going in towards that," Pous said of trainers.

A graduate of Western Illinois University, Pous got involved in athletic training during his sophomore year at Niles East High School. His experience includes working at Eastern Illinois University and with Indiana University's basketball team as a graduate trainer.

"During my sophomore year in high school the trainer asked me if I wanted to help and I started to help and really enjoyed it," Pous said.

When WTHS starts football practice next month, Pous will have the added help of three student assistants working with him.

Pous remembered how he landed the Warren position.

"I had worked with the Niles North athletic director and asked him to ask the other conference athletic directors if they needed a certified athletic trainer," Pous said.

Warren Athletic Dir. Mike Kunkle spoke up and Pous was on his way to becoming a familiar site on Warren sidelines. Pous credited Kunkle for making the initiative in establishing the position and the Warren administration as well.

Concentration

Amanda Herman concentrates before shooting free throw at Mundelein High School basketball camp. Campers, under direction of MHS basketball coach Dennis Kessel and counselors, learned basketball fundamentals including passing, dribbling and strategy. Eighty-four youngsters participated in camp.

Warren Softball Squad Wins Lake Zurich Tourney Title

The Warren Twp. girls traveling softball team captured first place at the Lake Zurich tournament last weekend, winning five games and losing none.

Wendy Kline was the leading hitter for the tournament, going nine-for-13. Pitchers Lisa Gowe and Alice Norton won two games each. Becky Brace pitched for one win and three saves.

This week Warren hosts Palatine July 9 and Lake Zurich July 11 in a doubleheader. Warren is 9-2 after the tournament title.

Warren started the tournament Friday with an 8-6 win over Cary. Julie Sexton was three-for-four including a home run. In the Waukegan game, Carrie Janus and Kline contributed three-for-five efforts. Jan Jahnke and Tiffany Holmes contributed clutch defensive plays.

On Saturday, Warren started the day off by coming from behind in the last inning to defeat Lake Zurich 4-3. Sexton and Kathy Wilkes delivered clutch hits and then pinch hitter Lisa Gowe's double scored Wilkes.

Warren moved into the championship game by

Lake Villa Squad Advances

The Lake Villa Travelers, a traveling team of the majors in the Lake Villa Twp. baseball league, are bound for Rockford to compete in the state championship.

An undefeated 10-0 season was highlighted by wins over Park City and North Chicago. The Lake Villa squad advanced to the state tournament with wins over Vernon Hills Eagles, last year's state champions.

The squad opens play in the double elimination state meet July 15 against Waukegan. The title game is set for July 18 with a trip to the national tournament in Kansas City at stake.

Eric Eckenstahler of Lake Villa pitched a no-hitter against Vernon Hills in the last game of the season June 30.

"The boys played great 'heads up' ball all season. We're ready to go to Rockford," manager Tony Farina said.

defeating Barrington 13-3 in five innings. Kline led the hitting attack, going four-for-four. Wilkes was two-for-two and Terri Ingalls hit a two-run homer.

In the championship game against Lake Zurich, Warren scored in the bottom of the sixth inning to take home the trophy for a 4-2 win. Kline was two-for-two and Janus was two-for-three.

Warren played well defensively, not committing any errors. Ingalls had six put outs and Janus had four put outs from third base.

Offensively, Warren had nine hits and no strikeouts.

Select Gilroy, Pasiewicz As New CLC Lancer Coaches

The College of Lake County will have two new faces at the helm of its golf and wrestling teams, Athletic Director Frank Minnerly announced. Ernie Gilroy will be the new golf coach and Stan Pasiewicz will head the wrestling team.

Gilroy, a resident of Waukegan, replaces Ralph Cianchetti as golf coach. A former teacher and retired principal, Gilroy was captain of the 1947 Lake Forest College golf team that won the College Conference of Illinois championship. He played 15 years of tournament golf as an amateur and has coached golf at Winnetka.

Gilroy was the civilian athletic director at Fort Sheridan in the mid 1950's and helped direct the building of the first nine holes of its golf course. He worked part-time for the Lake Forest Dept. of Recreation for 20 years coaching football, ice hockey and baseball.

He is still active as a football and baseball official with the Northern Officials Assn. and served as a commissioner for the Shireline Baseball League for 15 years.

"The College of Lake County has had a great golf program for 18 years. I hope to be able to play a part in maintaining that fine record," Gilroy said. Gilroy noted that CLC has won 14 Skyway Conference titles, eight Region IV titles, the 1979 National Junior College Golf championship and has had five all-Americans.

The CLC linksters will continue to play and practice at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth.

Pasiewicz, a resident of Fox Lake, brings much coaching experience to CLC. He was a head coach at Zion-Benton High School, coached at Highland Junior High in Libertyville, worked with Bob Therry at North Chicago High School and was an assistant coach at Mundelein and Stevenson High schools.

Pasiewicz was a member of the 1970 state wrestling championship team at North Chicago and a two-year varsity award winner at Illinois State University.

He has also been a wrestling official for 12 years, with six years as a regional official.

Carmel High Sophomores Attend Notre Dame Camp

Tom Nelson of Wildwood and Todd Baczak of Arbor Vista, both incoming sophomores at Carmel High School in Mundelein, attended the University of Notre Dame football camp, June 21-26.

Notre Dame head coach Lou Holtz supervised the camp.

Nelson, a 5-8 154 pounder, played center and defensive end while Baczak, a 6-3, 230 pounder, played offensive and defensive line for the Corsairs. Both players were part of the Carmel freshmen team which won the East Suburban Catholic Conference frosh championship last fall.

Both attend St. Gilberts School in Grayslake. Nelson played youth football for the Warren Packers while Baczak played for the Grayslake Colts.

Holtz's camp ran from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. It included extensive offensive and defensive drills and generalized football conditioning, through diet, exercise and body building.

Vernon Hills Edges Mohawks

Grayslake Mohawks' baseball team will be hoping post-season results against Vernon Hills are better than regular season games.

The Mohawks are in Mike's Memorial League playoff action this week. If they lost Tuesday against Vernon Hills, their next contest would be Wednesday. A victory pits them in a July 9 game.

Vernon Hills edged the Mohawks 7-6 last week.

Grayslake outit Vernon Hills 9-4, but walks and errors took their toll. Grayslake tied the game at 1-1 in the second and scored five times in the third for a 6-1 lead. Vernon Hills answered with a single run in the fourth, four clutch runs in the sixth and the winning run in the seventh.

David Carrillo led the hitting attack with a two-for-three game. Rusty Welch, Scott Schupp and Aaron Strain each contributed home runs.

Manager Tom Hunt praised his team's efforts on defense as Grayslake turned in a pair of double plays.

The loss gave Grayslake a 22-12 overall record.

County Likes Politics With A Local Flavor

by JOHN STEINKE

The Illinois presidential primary has been scheduled for March 15, 1988. Historically, the Illinois presidential primary has been regarded as kind of a joke. Three factors have diminished the importance of the state's primary:

1. For years, Chicago Mayor Richard Daley and Sen. Everett Dirksen usually controlled the delegations of their respective parties at national conventions and the major presidential contenders didn't bother to compete in the Illinois primaries. Which was why a former professional football player and carpet-layer, Riley Bender, trounced Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the 1948 Republican primary. Two years later, Bender was jailed as a hit-and-run driver. Another example was Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) who received 25 percent of the vote in the 1964 GOP primary. She was the only candidate who bothered to file against conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Daley and Dirksen were the leading political power brokers of their time. More than anyone else, it was Chicago's late mayor who helped put across Sen. John F. Kennedy at the 1960 Democratic National Convention. Daley also had much to do with the nominations of former Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson in 1956 and Vice President Hubert Humphrey in 1968. The conservative Dirksen was the floor manager for his longtime friend, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, at the 1952 GOP national convention in Chicago. Taft lost the nomination to war hero Dwight Eisenhower. And 12 years later, Dirksen nominated his sidekick, Barry Goldwater, for the presidency in San Francisco.

2. Another reason Illinois hasn't been that important on the primary map is that smaller states like Iowa and New Hampshire schedule their caucuses and primaries earlier. In addition, the South and border states conduct primaries on "Super Tuesday" one week before the contest in Illinois. The later presidential primaries like Illinois have become irrelevant because the winning presidential contender invariably is the politician who parlayed crucial victories early in the primary-caucus season into indispensable media coverage, voter support and campaign contributions.

In 1988, both parties primary-caucus schedules are absurdly "front-loaded." The presidential nomination process begins with the Iowa caucuses on Feb. 8, followed by the New Hampshire presidential primary on Feb. 16. "Super Tuesday" is scheduled for March 8.

On that date, there will be primaries or caucuses in every southern state as well as Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Hawaii, Idaho, Nevada and Washington. Both parties' large field of presidential hopefuls will be reduced to a few contenders or a single candidate by the early results in Iowa, New Hampshire and the south. This could render the Illinois presidential primary meaningless on March 15.

3. Most local politicians have little interest in the presidential race because they concentrate their support on state and county candidates in the March primary. There is a basic principle: "Politics is local." In 1972, Sen. Edmund Muskie temporarily maintained his status as the Democratic front-runner with a convincing primary victory in Illinois. But the politicians were concerned with Dan Walker's upset victory over then-Lt. Gov. Paul Simon in the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

Four years later, Jimmy Carter captured the Illinois presidential primary demonstrating that the former Georgia governor had strength in the industrial Midwest. Again, the presidential contest generated little interest. Attention was focused on former Sec. of State Michael Howlett's win over Walker in the Democratic gubernatorial primary. In 1980, Ronald Reagan scored a resounding victory over Rep. John Anderson of Illinois, who had emerged as the leading moderate Republican candidate. Once again, the presidential primary was a second event.

In Lake County, there was a massive voter turnout in the GOP primary. More than 63,000 people cast a Republican ballot. It was the race for state's attorney between Fred Foreman and Elliott Bacall that stimulated voter interest. Foreman was endorsed by the regular party organization, while Bacall was sponsored by former Sheriff Tom Brown. Foreman's win over Bacall was the first step in the destruction of the Brown machine.

In 1988, the Lake County Board contests may overshadow the presidential primary.

15 County Youth Are On The Job With YCC

On Monday, June 15, the 1987 Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) Program began. Fifteen youth arrived at the Lake County Forest Preserve District Headquarters in Libertyville for their orientation and first day on the job.

The youth were introduced to the District, crew leaders, and other program participants. As a part of their orientation, they were taken on a field trip to various forest preserves to view past YCC projects.

On Tuesday, June 16, the youth were instructed in an eight hour First Aid Training Program. Health and Safety Trainer Elmo Earls instructed the youth in basic first aid including bandaging, splinting, and emergency transporting.

The YCC Program is a summer work program for Lake County high school students ages 16 to 18. The eight-week employment period offers youth an opportunity to gain meaningful work experience and an awareness and understanding of the natural environment.

Donald Stranger, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve District, stated, "The YCC Program was initially funded by federal grants; however, since 1981 it has continued through community funded donations. All monies donated are applied directly to the youth's salaries, and the Lake County Forest Preserve District provides for all other operational costs and materials."

If you are interested in contributing to this program or would like more information, contact Randy Hines, YCC Program manager.

Venetian Night To Be Biggest

The 25th annual Lake Geneva Jaycees Venetian Festival is scheduled to run from Wednesday, Aug. 12 through Sunday, Aug. 16, in Lake Geneva's Flat Iron Park.

The event, designed as a major fundraising vehicle for local civic organizations and charities, has its origins dating back to the 1860s. The 1987 Venetian Festival celebrates its Silver Jubilee this year, as this is its 25th consecutive year under the sponsorship and direction of the Lake Geneva Jaycees.

Venetian Festival features live entertainment, beer and other assorted beverages at the main stage. A full spectrum of great food is provided by local civic groups. The carnival featured this year is furnished by Wenzel's Amusements.

On Wednesday, Aug. 12, Bingo the Clown and his Magic Circus will be on the main stage at 6 p.m.

"Bingo" hails out of the Milwaukee area, and will perform vanishing acts and other magical feats, assisted by a six-foot rabbit. Bingo the Clown features livestock in his act, which includes doves and rabbits. This event is a must for young children.

From 8 p.m. to midnight, featured band Stretch will be on the main stage.

Stretch comes to Venetian Festival from Chicago. The band performs music from the 1960s and 1970s, plus current top 40 tunes. Three of the members of Stretch were with the original Buckingham Brothers.

On Thursday, Aug. 13, J.P. and the Cats will take the main stage from 8 p.m. to midnight. This band features '50s and '60s classics with a rockin' and boppin' Chicagoland style.

Then on Friday, Aug. 14, from 8 p.m. to midnight, the main stage feature will be Class of 62.

Class of 62 consists of two guitars, bass guitars, keyboard and drums. Music performed by the group is of the '60s with the '80s sound, including the songs of the Beatles, Dion and the Belmonts, Chubby Checker, Tommy James, and more.

In addition to the music, there are numerous musical skits performed with added costume changes. Audience participation is also part of the show. Another highlight of the band is its tribute to the Beach Boys—a whole lot of surfin' goin' on.

On Saturday, Aug. 15, from noon to 4:30 p.m., the fourth annual Kettle Moraine Regional Championship Chili Cookoff will be on the main stage. Sanctioned by the International Chili Assn., the event is open to the public with a gaggle of chefs from all parts and features celebrity guest judges.

From 8 p.m. to midnight, Mr. Myers will be the featured band. Mr. Myers features the ultimate in Caribbean Rock, reggae and calypso.

On Sunday, Aug. 16, on the main stage will be an open afternoon featuring performance by "La Dance du Lac," the academy of modern dance; karate demonstrations; and live Jaycee Disco at 4 p.m.

At 5 p.m. the Wonder Lakes Water Ski Show will be the top event, followed by a lighted boat parade off Riviera Pier.

Following the boat parade will be the Silver Jubilee Fireworks Display, largest in the city's history.

Lakefront Festival To Have Stars Galore

Maynard Ferguson, national recording and performance artist, will be the headlining act of the 1987 Waukegan Lakefront Festival on Sunday, Aug. 9.

Other entertainers on the Main Stage will be Ten-28 and Big Twist and the Mellow Fellows.

Banjo Buddies Dixieland Band and 4 Guys Standing Around Singing will perform on the Ethnic Stage.

An Arts and Children's Stage will be hosting magic acts, puppet shows and other children's entertainment. Admission to the festival is free.

Ferguson, a 40 year jazz trumpeter, will be touring with his new electric band, High Voltage. His 61st album came out on June 22 of this year and should set the stage for another top 40 climb.

Between his touring and recording of this new album entitled Maynard Ferguson and High Voltage, he still finds time for his college and high school music clinics.

"We hope to please a wide range of people with Maynard Ferguson since his music will be both jazz, electric and familiar tunes such as the theme from Rocky I," stated Debra Paravonian, festival director.

Ten-28, a Chicago based, original rock band recently opened at Poplar Creek for such acts as General Hospital's Frisco and John Waite. The six-member group expects to have a top 40 hit by 1990.

Big Twist, a Chicago based rhythm and blues band, has toured all over the U.S. They have been in the business 14 years and boast 250 performances per year.

4 Guys Standing Around Singing promote themselves as Acapella Soft Rock. They can be seen on McDonalds commercials throughout Chicagoland, and are one of the hottest upcoming groups in the Chicagoland.

Banjo Buddies Dixieland Band mixes the sounds of bluegrass and country with lots of audience appeal. They have opened for such names as Bill Cosby.

EVENTS

The 15th annual King Richard's Faire will open in Bristol, Wis., off of Interstate 1-94 and Russell Rd., and run from July 11 to Aug. 23.

A Polish fest, Festival Polonaise, is scheduled to be held on July 24, 25 and 26 at Chicago's lakefront Olive Park off of Grand Ave. Besides three rock bands, The Buckinghams, The Romantics and Rare Earth, a constellation of Polish stars are all scheduled, plus clowns, food galore, face painting, a magician and loads of other entertainment for the entire family.

THEATER

One of the year's most popular shows, "The Little Shop of Horrors," which moved from the Candelight Theater to the Royal-George Theater on Halsted St. in Chicago, will have its last performance on Sunday, July 12.

DINING

Try some of the fresh seafood always on the menu in abundance and variety at The Hidden Cove on Milwaukee Ave., in the Burlington Coat Factory mall.

For the best in a light lunch, The Squire Restaurant on Rtes. 173 and 83 in Antioch, has the best egg salad sandwich to be had. Their secret, the egg salad made fresh for each sandwich.

Speaking of delicious things, try the rice pudding (topped with whipped cream if you dare) at the Vault Restaurant in Antioch. It's as smooth and rich as ice cream!

Dylan's gourmet food, with just a touch of the French, would please any palate. The turn of the century mansion atmosphere is an extra added attraction.

Crafters Display Their Work

Over 400 national and local craftsmen perform "slight of hand" on July 25 and 26, at Craft Fair USA, in Wisconsin State Fair Park's air-conditioned exhibit hall, 8100 W. Greenfield Ave., Milwaukee.

There is no mystery to the appearance of Paul Eberle of Trevor, Wis.; Antionette Herman of Mundelein, and Kathy Ticha of Twin Lakes, Wis., and no mystery to the quick disappearances of their crafts and the over thousands of more crafts presented for sale.

Creative minds and hands of magic are forever busy. Magical saw, hammer, and nails for the woodworker who creates furniture and carvings from raw wood; the needleworker's needles stitching clothing, quilts, and dolls; the weaver spinning wools and angora for sweaters; the leatherworker's mallet and die tools applied to cowhide for belts and purses; the potter shaping clay for functional dishes; the jeweler with his precise stone cutting instruments; the painter's brushes dancing across canvas; and the photographer's "eye" of perception. More magic abounds too with country folk art, sculpture, stained glass, ceramics, and seasonal crafts.

Thrill to the well-known mystery magic of Brett Daniels and his classical magic effects of levitation, transposition, and disappearance; each effect augmented by the total dimension of danger during his performances at 1 and 3 p.m. For more information, call (414) 321-4566.

Computer To Match Grapplers For Title

A Lake County dentist could be competing again for a Midlands wrestling championship, even though this time it would be in a computer and not on a wrestling mat.

Dr. Russ Schneider, Gurnee dentist and a 1967 Midlands 150 pound champion, has been included on the official all-star ballot of the Midlands Silver Anniversary Wrestling Championships scheduled for Dec. 29-30 at Northwestern University in Evanston.

Schneider was a former 145 pound state high school champion from Warren Twp. High School in 1964 and a 152 pound Big Ten champ from Northwestern in 1968. His Midlands wrestling record was 12-3 which included a 150 pound title in 1967.

As a part of the silver anniversary, one of the special projects will be a Midlands All-Star Dual Meet which will match a Pioneer Era (1963-1974) Team against a Contemporary Era (1975-1986) Team by means of a computer. This will be the first time wrestling has been involved in a computerized competition.

Wrestling fans throughout the nation will have an opportunity to select members of each team. After teams are selected, fans can predict the winners and match wits with the computer. Ballots will be distributed at major wrestling events this spring and summer.

Two other Lake County wrestlers (besides Schneider) are on the Pioneer Era ballot, Dan Sherman of Deerfield and Pat Kelly of Waukegan. No Lake County wrestlers are listed on the Contemporary Era ballot.

Other legendary names on the ballot include former Olympic Medalists Dan Gable (gold) and Chris Taylor (silver).

Forty seven wrestlers have competed in the Midlands as well as having Olympic experience. One hundred and forty seven (147) men have won 238 titles throughout the history of the tournament.

Fiesta Days Has It All: Music, Races, Art Show

"McHenry's Fiesta Days Has It All" is more than just a slogan. The festival is producing what it claims. From its own stamp cancellation to memorable opening day, to "Top 10" caliber entertainment, '87 Fiesta Days is producing it all, July 19 through 26.

The Cryan Shames will be the feature of a brand new event called "Friday Nite Live" happening on July 24. The national limelight of The Cryan Shames shines at Friday Nite Live with the great sounds of the '60s emanating from the main stage at Petersen Park.

Theme Nite this year is being held in the middle of the week because it's being tailored to a mid-week adult night, especially for McHenry's own. It will be McHenry's favorite music played by its favorite band, Trilogy, for McHenryites, at the main stage at Petersen Park on Wednesday, July 22.

Opening day of Fiesta Days remains the biggest day of all—Food Fiesta Day, with a plethora of fabulous aromas emanating from dozens of barbecue grills, warming units, barbecue spits and chafing dishes and chilling bins.

From succulent summer samplings to festival favorites, ethnic and all-American delights will tease and tempt every palate. Fifteen food vendors will offer over 75 food items to fill the tummies and delight the fancies as the entertainment of the day delights all ages.

The highlights on the main stage will be a command return of DeLuxury, the great rock and blues Chicagoland favorite. Bobby Heat and the Beat, McHenry's own, is back by popular demand, after delighting the crowd at Finale Day last year. WAIT/WXET will be doing a live remote broadcast from Food Fiesta, as well as conducting audience participation games.

The Cardboard Boat Race will return, as well as the sand sculpturing contest and the MDA famous "Battle of Fiesta Day Stars." Teams of 12 men and 12 women will battle for honors, while performing antics and aerobic activating maneuvers that challenge the body as well as the teams.

Pony rides, kiddie rides and the all-age favorite super slide will be available from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. All of this will be going on while the fourth annual Car Show, sponsored by the North Shore Street Rod Assn., will be in progress.

A banner year is expected; 200-plus cars of every description. Trophies will be awarded, judging will be accomplished by 3 p.m. Entries will be accepted the day of the show. Registration begins at 8 p.m. that morning, the show opens at 9 a.m. and extends until 4 p.m.

The seventh annual Art in the Park will take place Saturday, July 25 from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Veteran's Memorial Park in downtown McHenry. Over 75 artists will display art in every medium, most of which is for sale. Live entertainment all day long creates a relaxing atmosphere for fairgoers and sidewalk shoppers to tarry while, rest, relax, refresh the palate, the feet and the purse in the shade of giant oak trees as a finale or an interlude to acquiring the best bargains of the year in McHenry.

"McHenry Fiesta Days Has It All," including the ever-famous Banjo Beer Nite, again heralding Bill Bailey's Banjo Band, among the finest in Chicagoland, Saturday night from 7 p.m. to midnight in Petersen Park.

Grand Finale Day brings the traditional chicken barbecue at Veteran's Memorial Park, with live entertainment from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The giant parade will begin at 2 p.m., featuring the Drum Corps, U.S. Navy Great Lakes Military Band, the Henneberrys 15 foot inflatables, and magnificent floats, clowns, bikes, antique cars, jesters, jugglers, karate experts and Miss McHenry and her court.

The Drum Corps Magic, the famous and fabulous final event of Fiesta Days, starts at 7 p.m. at McCracken Field. Tickets are $5 for concert seating, $3 general admission. Tickets are available at the gate. Seating is on a first-come, first-serve basis, so early arrival is suggested.

The corps that will be performing this year are the Phantom Regiment Cadets, Madison Junior Scouts, Black Knights, Spirit of '76, Kingsmen, and Prairie Fire.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

With the most number one hits as a female solo artist in music history and a total of 54 albums in her 27-year career, Diana Ross has managed to define blues music for the past three decades. From her 1963 debut album "Meet The Supremes" to this year's release of "Red Hot Rhythm and Blues," Diana has reigned the charts.

This year will be no exception. Each of the songs on this LP provides a showcase for the full range of her vocal capabilities. Like all of Diana's finest works, "Red Hot Rhythm and Blues" re-works classic rhythms and vocal textures that is undeniably Diana Ross.

The first single, "Dirty Looks," is only the warm-up to a hot and provocative collection of songs. From the sultry "Selfish One" to the raw energy of "Shine" even to the mesmerizing sound of "It's Hard For Me," "Red Hot Rhythm and Blues" is that rarest of all commodities, an album with no bad cuts.

On a more somber note, when Thompson Twins Alanah Currie and Tom Bailey retreated to a lakeside house in Wicklow, Ireland, to write their new album "Close To The Bone," they wanted to create music that zeroed in on personal emotions. They had no idea how personally motivated they would be. Midway through their stay it got serious in that Currie was carrying Bailey's child (are twins supposed to do that?). And a few weeks later, Alanah's mother died, and she then lost the child to a miscarriage. ©1987, McNaught Synd.

With all books discounted from 50 to 90 percent, the Ware House has no book priced over $5, the price of some of today's monthly magazines.

There's also a big selection for those who are paperback devotees, these too are sold at a fraction of their original price.

The saying that "Word of mouth is the best advertising," has stood Madorosky in good stead since most of his customers are so satisfied they send their friends in.

The Giant Book Ware House is easy to find at 38971 N. Lewis, in the strip mall, just two miles west of Illinois Beach State Park.

Another boon to book browsers, the Ware House is open seven days a week and during the evening, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

by GLORIA DAVIS

The value of the printed word has never been so well merchandised as it is at the Giant Book Ware House on Lewis Ave. in Zion.

Owner Jordan Madorosky knew a good thing when he found it and decided to bring a myriad of new books to the public at discount very affordable prices a few months ago and his growing list of customers firmly approve.

At the Giant Book Ware House one can choose from 30,000 NEW books on the widest variety of subjects, from novels, children's books, cook books to non-fiction, educational books, and even "how to do it" manuals.

There's something for everybody, including a lot of best sellers, stacked on the Ware House's shelves. "I've seldom had anyone walk out empty handed," says Madorosky.

Madorosky wanted a book store for those who love to read, or just collect good looking books for shelf

By J.T. YURKO
 Right from the beginning, it is clear that "Amazing Grace and Chuck" is a fable. "Once upon a time there was a boy named Chuck..." the screen reads. The simplicity of the story is childlike in ideals, but judging from this film's laconic pacing this one will play best to adults.
 Chuck is a Little League pitcher in a small town in Montana. Chuck's father is in the Air Force Reserve, and when Chuck shows an interest in rockets, his class gets a guided tour of a missile silo. There, Chuck asks questions that show a sensitivity beyond his years. While most kids worry about a new baseball glove, Chuck sees in the missile silo an absurdity: a rocket designed to kill people thousands of miles away. It is a rocket, he is told, that was built so it would never be used. Similar rockets are pointed at us, right now. Chuck sleeps on the subject, wakes up the next morning and announces that he will give up baseball until the superpowers dismantle all nuclear weapons. Like we said, it's a fable.

 Chuck's action gets the attention of Amazing Grace (Alex English), a basketball superstar. He announces that he's giving up basketball - and a million-dollar salary - to join Chuck in his cause. From there, the isolated acts grow into a movement, first of sports stars and later of children all over the world.
 As fables go, this little-league "Lysistrata" is handled with seductive care. The characters are all finely presented, from the boy's near-perfect father (William L. Petersen) to the president (Gregory Peck). But the film needs more snap and a little less sap. Chuck (Joshua Zuehlke) seems to think for 20 minutes before reciting a line.
 Like most fables, this one has a happy ending, but it's one for which the film's final words almost apologize. Someday, everything seen in the film just might come to pass. But for the present, "Amazing Grace and Chuck" will be greeted with cynicism.

Tom Poston has had more than his fair share of hits

By Lynn Hoogenboom

According to Tom Poston, none of the regulars on "The Steve Allen Show," which aired from 1956 through 1961, considered themselves groundbreakers. One thing, however, was obvious. "You can't miss that excitement of a hit show," says Poston. "And although we weren't recipients of it—it was Steve Allen's show and he was the star—we got our reflected stuff. It was terrific."

Tom Poston

Poston also got a 1959 Emmy for Best Supporting Actor. "Well, that was for all of us guys," says Poston. "I just accepted it for everyone. I didn't ever feel that it was just mine."

Poston, 65, has learned a lot more about hits since then. He later played the crotchety neighbor on "Mork & Mindy" (1978-82) and now plays handyman George Utley on "Newhart," which airs Mondays on CBS.

"When I think of the shows that I've done—Steve Allen, Robin Williams. And now Bob Newhart. When Bob gets going and departs from the script, the audience is beside itself. He doesn't do it all the time—he takes it seriously—but usually something will slip out."

Even the cast has a hard time maintaining a professional demeanor when Newhart gets going. "The look on his face when he's lying and trying to get out of something," says Poston. "He makes me laugh. He almost ruined a scene once because Mary Frann couldn't stop laughing. He was just doing his thing, and poor Mary was playing straight. I'm not even in the scene, and I'm laughing uncontrollably off stage. How they ever got it on film, I don't know. I think he eased up and didn't blink that one extra time."

Poston also spent 10 years as a panelist on "To Tell the Truth." "I thought that was the best," he says. "It used some brains and the audience at home didn't know any more than the panelists. I used to get the right one based on Don Ameche's questions—and he wouldn't. He was like Mr. District Attorney. He would ask the questions like they were guilty of something."

Poston doesn't know what's in store for George Utley. "I want him to teach at Dartmouth," says Poston. "They just laugh, but there must be something he can teach at Dartmouth. And then, as you know, I'm a teen idol and have been for decades. I'd like to see them capitalize on that. I want to take my shirt off, but no chance. 'Vermont Vice' would go, I think."

IN NOSTALGIA

By Paul Elie

From the beginning, the odds seemed to be stacked against "The White Shadow." It centered around Ken Reeves (Ken Howard), a white basketball coach at a predominantly black high school and dealt with the touchy subject of racial tension. And for basketball-team members, it required a young, unknown supporting cast.

Yet the series, which aired from 1978 to 1981, found a comfortable place in CBS's prime-time lineup. Though it never attracted a large audience, it drew praise from educational groups, as well as a memorable spoof on "Saturday Night Live"—"The Black Shadow," starring guest host Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

Sitcom journeyman Howard, who looks like a former pro basketball player, was well cast as Reeves. A former NBA star, Reeves had turned to coaching when a knee injury cut short by a knee injury. His Carver High team was a collection of distinctive characters: gangling, insecure Goldstein (Ken Michelman), scheming Curtis Jackson (Eric Kilpatrick), love-struck "Salami" Pettrino (Timothy Van Patten), quiet Thorpe (Kevin Hooks), cynical Reese (Nathan Cook) and lethargic Warren Coolidge (Byron Stewart), who played like a star when he made his best effort.

"The White Shadow" tried to be realistic. Like "Quincy," another issue-oriented series that aired in the late '70s, its treatment of topics like drugs, sex and family problems often was simplistic. But the series had its lighter side—especially when the street-wise players interacted with the genial Reeves. And unlike many high-school programs, "The White Shadow" allowed its stars to graduate. Goldstein, Jackson and Reese were written out after the 1980 season.

Ryerson Seeking Guide Volunteers

The Edward L. Ryerson Conservation Area in Deerfield announced that positions are again available for weekday volunteer-naturalists. Anyone with an enthusiasm for both nature and children is encouraged to apply by calling Naturalist Terri Donovan at (312) 948-7750.

Volunteer-Naturalists are responsible for leading school groups on environmental education programs that stress hands-on learning outside. Thousands of children visit Ryerson Woods each year for programs that teach environmental awareness, plant-animal relationships, and the need to preserve natural areas. Popular activities include maple-syruping, animal tracking, forest explorations, pond seining, and wildflower identification.

Training sessions begin in August, covering basic ecology concepts and activities that teach these concepts. Tips on leading effective field trips for a wide range of age groups are also covered. A time commitment of one day per week during the school year is required.

- Don't sunbathe between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.
- Put off heavy work and outdoor exercise until the weather is cooler. Exercise only in the early morning or late evening.

Deadline Nears For Marina Applications

Lake Michigan boaters wanting a slip at the Dept. of Conservation's North Point Marina when it opens in 1989 have less than a month to turn in their applications.

The Dept. of Conservation will accept applications for recreational and commercial slips through the close of business on July 31. A random number lottery will be held following July 31 to award the slips to successful applicants.

The marina, being constructed by DOC on 160 lakefront acres in the north section of Illinois Beach State Park, will cost approximately $36 million in state funds and $14 million in private funds. It will be the largest recreational small-craft facility on the Great Lakes when it is complete.

In addition to 1,420 recreational slips in the main harbor, the marina will have 60 slips in a smaller commercial harbor.

Applications for slips, along with instructions and the yearly fee structure for Lake Michigan's newest boating facility, are available at: DOC's Region II office in Spring Grove, the Illinois Beach State Park office, the DOC Chicago Office in the State of Illinois Center, the North Point Marina Offices in the Bradley Center in Winthrop Harbor.

One Monday last month in our Maternity Center
we delivered
3 potential sopranos,
2 blue-eyed heartbreakers,
a pair of future placekickers
...and the twelfth in a series...

To be continued?

When we first opened our Maternity Center—nearly three decades ago—the only people involved in the birth of a new baby were the mother, her doctor and our specialized staff. But times have changed. And since then, we've helped many newborns . . . and many new birthing options . . . come to life.

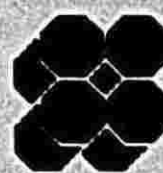

But while we continue to grow with the times by offering the latest, most up-to-date birthing plans and obstetric services available, some things will never change.

We'll always take the time to mother every baby, baby every mother . . . and pamper the rest of the family, too. We offer special classes and support programs for mothers, fathers, siblings, even grandparents—on all aspects of the birth experience.

We also have refresher courses—for the many families who come back to us again.

And again.
For more information about NIMC's Maternity Center, write to us . . . or call us

RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPERS - PLEASE TAKE NOTICE

The City of North Chicago is seeking proposals for the development of forty-two (42) acres of prime residential real estate. The property consists of four parcels (three of which are contiguous), and much of the land is wooded. It is located adjacent to an elementary school and a large public park.

The land is currently zoned SFD, but the City is willing to consider a Planned Unit Development with a mixture of SFD, townhomes, and possibly a small retail/convenience facility. Proposals will be evaluated on quality of the development; the Developer's ability to carry out the project on a timely basis; and the sale price of the land.

Details of the Proposal Guidelines and Requirements may be obtained by visiting, writing or calling the Community Development & Planning Department, 1850 Lewis Avenue, North Chicago, Illinois 60064, phone (312) 578-7754. All proposals must be submitted to the above office by Monday, August 31, 1987 at 2:00 p.m. The contents of each proposal will be kept confidential.

Building, Junk Auto Woes Mar Subdivision

by LARRY WITTNEBERT
Slipshod building code enforcement, businesses operating in neighborhoods and high-grass lawns mar the Diamond Lake Subdivision in Mundelein, according to one resident.

located off Highway 45 in the Libertyville Twp. He said that for the past two or three years, the village has been lax about enforcing neighborhood ordinances. He cites a communication problem too in dealing with the village. For example, he said that he made 26 calls to the village before getting results on his complaint about a neighbor who let grass climb to four or five feet high.

Finally, he was able to contact the building and grounds dept. which checked into the situation and informed him that some action was pledged.

"But the grass is still not cut," he said.

The house, located on Oakdale, glares with "wall-to-wall garbage, food and debris," he said. "One spark and the place will be gone."

He said that he has chased children away from the yard, concerned about their safety.

"What's the sense of having zoning laws and ordinances when the village doesn't comply with them?" he asked.

Edgell said that at least one auto repair business operates in the neighborhood, running 12 to 20 cars in and out.

Landscapers operate their businesses there too, with dump trucks and loading equipment, he said.

He went on to say that another problem involves issuance of building of permits with no follow-up on whether people are complying with their plans.

According to him, the subdivision contains two-story car garage and buildings with smokestacks that "literally lay on the ground."

He said that junk cars are scattered around, too, and one car has stood on property for a year-and-a-half with a truck tire protruding from the windshield.

Another piece of property has six cars that are undrivable, he said.

In some cases, too many people crowd into cramped living quarters, he said, too.

Edgell said that he's lived on Diamond Lake for five years and is concerned about its well-being. "This is a potentially good area," he said.

He credited the village with having a lawn mowing ordinance, but said that it's too lax.

He said that since he's lived on Diamond Lake, his property values have doubled, and he wants to protect that worth.

State Approves 3 Road Projects

The Illinois Dept. of Transportation has awarded contracts to improve several stretches of road in the Lakeland area.

Peter Baker & Son of Lake Bluff will resurface 1.81 miles of Rte. 60 between Rte. 21 and the Tri-State Tollway. The project includes replacing the existing structure with a bridge over the DesPlaines River. Baker's bid was for $4,293,529.

Eric Bolander Construction of Libertyville will resurface .59 miles on Keller Ave. from Belvidere Rd. to Washington St. in Waukegan. Included will be curb and gutter, storm sewer and earth excavation. Bolander bid $553,166 for the project.

Aldridge Electric of Libertyville will modernize traffic signal equipment at seven intersections on Rtes. 60 and 21 in Vernon Hills. The bid was $99,057 for the project.

Crane Moves Office

Twelfth District Congressman Philip M. Crane announced that he has moved his Crystal Lake district office, which was located on Williams St., to Suite B on the first floor at 100 N. Walkup in Crystal Lake. The telephone numbers remain the same—(815) 459-3399 and (312) 223-3030. The other 12th Congressional District office is located at 1450 S. New Wilke Rd. in Arlington Heights. That telephone number is (312) 394-0790.

Healthy Trip Starts Before You Leave

by JIM WARNKEN
President, North Star Travel, Inc.

There isn't anything more disappointing than getting sick on your vacation. While I can't guarantee good health on your trip, I can offer some tips to help avoid illness while traveling.

Let's start with some pre-trip planning.

Immunizations are seldom required for travel to most parts of the world, but if they are, get them well in advance of the trip. Certain shots can cause adverse side effects. Better to take that chance while you are still at home.

Stock up on frequently used pharmaceutical products such as aspirin, female sanitary items and the like. Band-Aids are particularly valuable not only for cuts and scrapes, but for those inevitable blisters which will occur on feet not used to walking. By the way, a good pair of walking shoes is a must on any trip.

If you take medication on a regular basis, check with your doctor to see if the dosage should be adjusted for altitude, long plane flights, or unusual climates. This is also a good time to have him prescribe something for motion sickness. The patches worn behind the ear are especially good for cruises. Keep any prescription drugs in their original containers. It will save explanations at customs.

The old saying "Don't drink the water" is still good advice even if the trip is just to Florida. Those of us with sensitive stomachs will find normally harmless bacteria in certain water supplies will do some real nasty things to our systems. You will, however, get to visit a lot of new restrooms by not heeding this advice.

Be wary of ice cubes which may be made from unsafe water. Contrary to popular opinion, alcoholic drinks will not kill all the bacteria in those ice cubes. Canned pop, hot coffee, and hot tea are usually safe drinks. Canned fruit or vegetables are safe bets. Raw foods of any kind should be avoided. Stay away from dairy products in any form. This includes certain desserts and sauces. Pasteurization is still not worldwide.

Sunburn has probably ruined more vacations than any other injury. Remember, the sun in Jamaica is much stronger than back home. You will also burn much faster at higher altitudes, something to think about in Reno. You can still get a tan with sunblock number 15. Don't take the chance of a bad burn for a little faster sun.

Common sense and a little planning will assure a happy and healthy vacation.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Reap your overdue harvest.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Don't force your ideas on those you care about. A situation from the past may take up some time. Discuss your future activities with prominent people.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Use that new predicament you're in to your advantage. Friendly faces and new acquaintances will be receptive to your ideas. Take time to rest up.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) If you can't do everything you want to, don't feel frustrated; nobody's perfect. Take that trip you've been wanting to before you get bogged down.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) Clear up some situations with your mate. Try to cut down on expenses. Carry through with your duties, even if they seem a bit tedious.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Be sure you look alive if you venture out into the world of business. Don't underestimate the importance of a nice smile and a well-groomed appearance.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be more receptive to the ideas of your friends and family; they only want to help you. A new romance may be on the horizon, so be on the lookout.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Direct your energy into those financial matters. A good pal with an open mind may make you see things more clearly. Be concerned with personal matters.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Don't get in over your head concerning your debts. Cheer yourself up by visiting those friends you haven't seen lately. Be your cheery self.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) You need to think more and talk less to move ahead the way you want to. Get together with the one you love and enjoy a romantic weekend.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Get together with those whose company you enjoy for a great time. Clear your calendar to make more time for the rest and relaxation you need.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Handle your constructive work nicely and then be off to your favorite pastimes. Precision is essential when dealing with your financial matters.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) New contacts can help you make the most of your talents. If you work hard, you can strive for the recognition you desire at work. Watch your wallet.

If you were born this week, you are one of those people lucky enough to have the patience and understanding needed to get along with others. Because of this, people probably find you pleasant to be with, but make sure you know who your true friends are when the going gets tough.
